

Supplier Community

Collaborate seamlessly. Speed time to market.

SECURELY COLLABORATE WITH SUPPLIERS ANYTIME, ANYWHERE

Onboarding and managing suppliers is critical to the success of manufacturers. Effective collaboration requires automated workflows and secure data sharing, which improve overall supplier performance as well as the bottom line.

But it's not easy. Challenges include insufficient data control, unsecured channels for intellectual property and the difficulty of communicating across multiple time zones.

Propel integrates across functional silos and systems to power the Product 360 view. This single source of truth connects product teams and suppliers with real-time data sharing and seamless collaboration throughout the product lifecycle to accelerate time to market.

Formlabs reduced cycle time for prototypes by 5 weeks

3D printing company Formlabs added 120 users in two weeks, while maintaining regulatory certifications and increasing control in supplier access. The company used Propel to significantly streamline collaboration development timelines.

"With Propel, we saw immediate benefits in terms of eliminating human error, getting faster turnaround of parts for the next round of prototypes in the development cycle."
