

Get the data in. Get the deal done.

Get your night back.

Salesforce was built for desk work, but you work from everywhere. And your current tools are making you pay for that mismatch.

You're either wrestling a mobile app that wasn't built for the field, or spending your evening updating Salesforce from your laptop. Your day ended hours ago. But your work didn't.

Voice Plus was built specifically for the moments between site visits, so your Salesforce updates are done before you leave the parking lot.

8:00 AM

The first stop of the day.

Your meeting starts in two minutes. Do you remember the last conversation? The objections, the stakeholders, or follow-ups needed to close this deal? You're scrolling through Salesforce in a parking lot, burning time you don't have.

Pull up the full interaction history in a few taps. Walk in knowing the last conversation, open issues, and what's at stake. No guessing. No digging.

9:30 AM

Your meeting just wrapped.

The details are fresh now, but gone by lunch. You scribble some notes and tell yourself you'll enter them later. Later turns into 9pm, and your memory can't fill the gaps in your notes.

Capture the meeting live or recap it right after. Type or dictate your notes before the details fade. Salesforce is updated instantly, so you're ready when it's time for the next step.

Mid-Day

A customer calls between stops.

You answer, handle it, and keep driving. By the time you sit down to log it, the details are fuzzy and the follow-up you promised is already at risk.

Add the disposition and a quick note right after you hang up. Voice Plus captures the call automatically and logs it to Salesforce correctly. Even the unplanned calls stay on record.

5:00 PM

You're home, but not done.

The end of the day is when the admin work starts. You're at your kitchen table, laptop open, reconstructing a day that should have ended hours ago.

Because you logged it as you lived it, there's nothing left to catch up on. Finish your last meeting, close the app, and you're done. Actually done.

With Voice Plus, you've stopped:

Losing details on the way to your car

Digging through Salesforce in a parking lot

Tapping through three screens to log one note

Reconstructing your day at 9pm
