

Calendar Anything

The All-In-One Scheduling + Calendaring Solution for Salesforce

More than just a calendar, CalendarAnything helps organizations save time, reduce costs, and streamline workflows by providing advanced visualization and scheduling of any standard, custom, or external object in Salesforce.

CalendarAnything's intuitive approach improves overall Salesforce adoption by eliminating the need for external calendars. Built using the latest Salesforce technology, the CalendarAnything Lightning Web Component allows you to schedule marketing campaigns, plan projects, align with prospects, forecast opportunities, and more! Regardless if your team works from home, in office, or on-the-go, CalendarAnything features streamline your business processes and productivity.

Differentiate pertinent data at-a-glance

- Multilevel conditional coloring
  Visualize up to three different fields, each with its own conditional color formatting, to instantly understand data and make faster, smarter business decisions.
- Filtering
  Save time by narrowing large datasets quickly to only the most relevant records.
- Grouping and subgrouping
  Use Day Grouping, Swimlane, Kanban, and Gantt views to organize work efficiently and optimize resource allocation.

Self-scheduling and real-time availability

- Cross-platform availability
  Reduce wasted time with cross-referencing calendars. Surface true availability between Google, Outlook, and CalendarAnything availability calendars.
- Seamless scheduling
  Prevent double-bookings and eliminate manual coordination by automatically surfacing real-time availability.
- Smart booking decisions
  Ensure meetings, appointments, and resource scheduling are based on the most accurate, up-to-date information, helping your team serve customers faster and more reliably.

Dynamic integrations

- Google Calendar + Outlook Calendar
  Visualize, create, and edit events directly inside the CalendarAnything UI, eliminating the need to toggle between records or tabs.
- Zoom, Slack, and Microsoft Teams
  Enable frictionless collaboration with integrated communications. Share calendars or records via .ics, export to Excel, or print to PDF to reduce administrative overhead.

Manipulate data right from CalendarAnything UI

- Create new appointments for patients on the phone.
- Edit/reschedule a pre-sales call in seconds to keep deals moving forward.
- Drag and drop service appointments to another resource, ensuring optimal use of staff and assets.

Mobile-ready by design

- 100% Salesforce native
  No additional app downloads required. CalendarAnything lives inside the Salesforce Mobile App.
- On-the-go productivity
  Give users their schedules at their fingertips, empowering them to manage calendars, appointments, and resources anywhere, anytime.
- Consistent Experience
  Whether on desktop or mobile, users get the same powerful, Salesforce-native calendaring features to keep business moving forward.

Works across Salesforce products

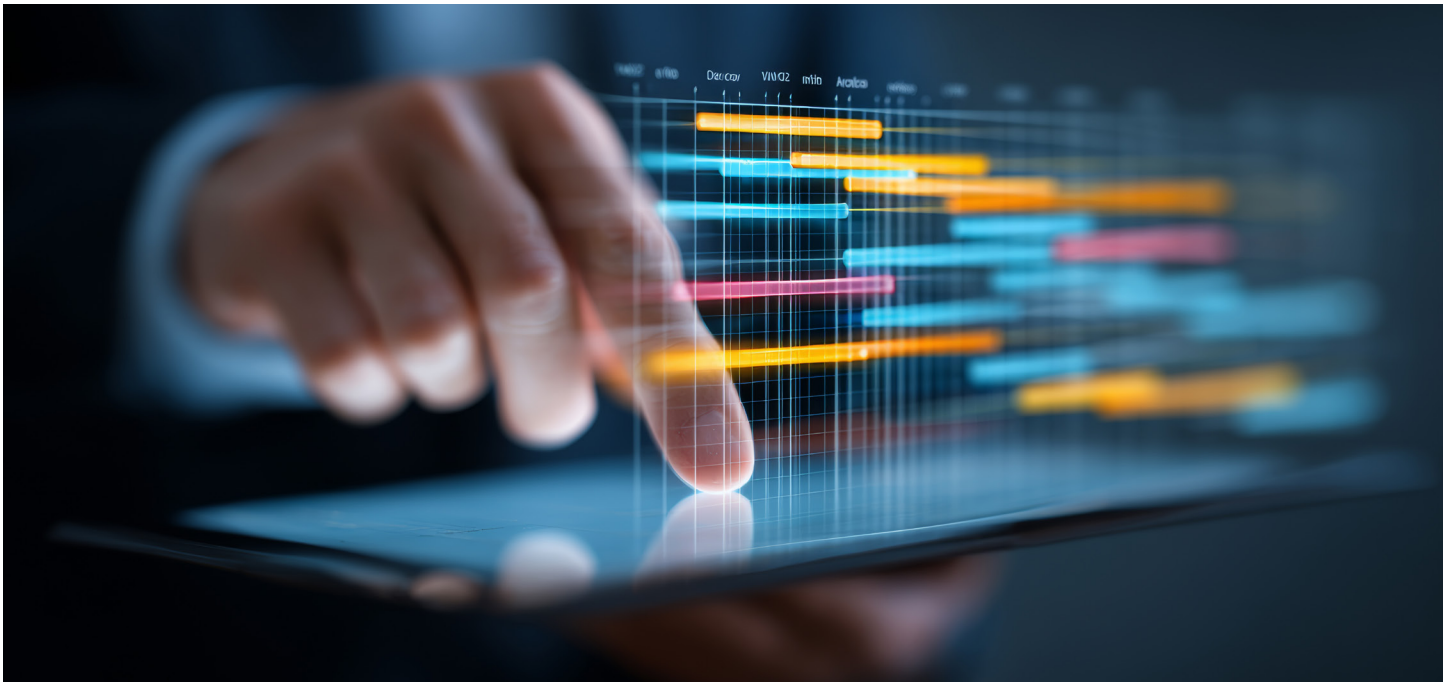

CalendarAnything complements Salesforce Scheduler and Field Service Lightning, while also working seamlessly with all Salesforce Industry Clouds and almost all license types. CalendarAnything makes your Salesforce data actionable no matter which products you use.

User view customization

Give end users control over how they work best. Adjust font size, default filtered views, working hours, and more to personalize their experience and boost productivity.

The power to collaborate

Embed dynamic calendars on Salesforce record pages to streamline internal collaboration, or publish them externally to share events, volunteer opportunities, and webinars. Cut down on miscommunication while increasing visibility across teams and communities.
