

Documill Discovery

Search - Find - Take Action

Complete view on the customer across data systems

Find customer information that is relevant to you.
 Preview actual document pages from SharePoint.
 Follow customer care tickets from JIRA.
 Be up to speed with memos from Evernote.

presentation discovery customer
Discovery customer project material
Discovery Demo
Discovery
Discovery releases
Customer A
Customer B
Customer integrations
Discovery Product Marketing material

Shortcut to the right information

Discovery is built around the leading open source search engine, Apache Solr, and enhanced with information discovery tools that bring your content discovery experience to the next level. Discovery's novel, highly visual user interface has been designed, tested and reiterated to serve the business user across devices.

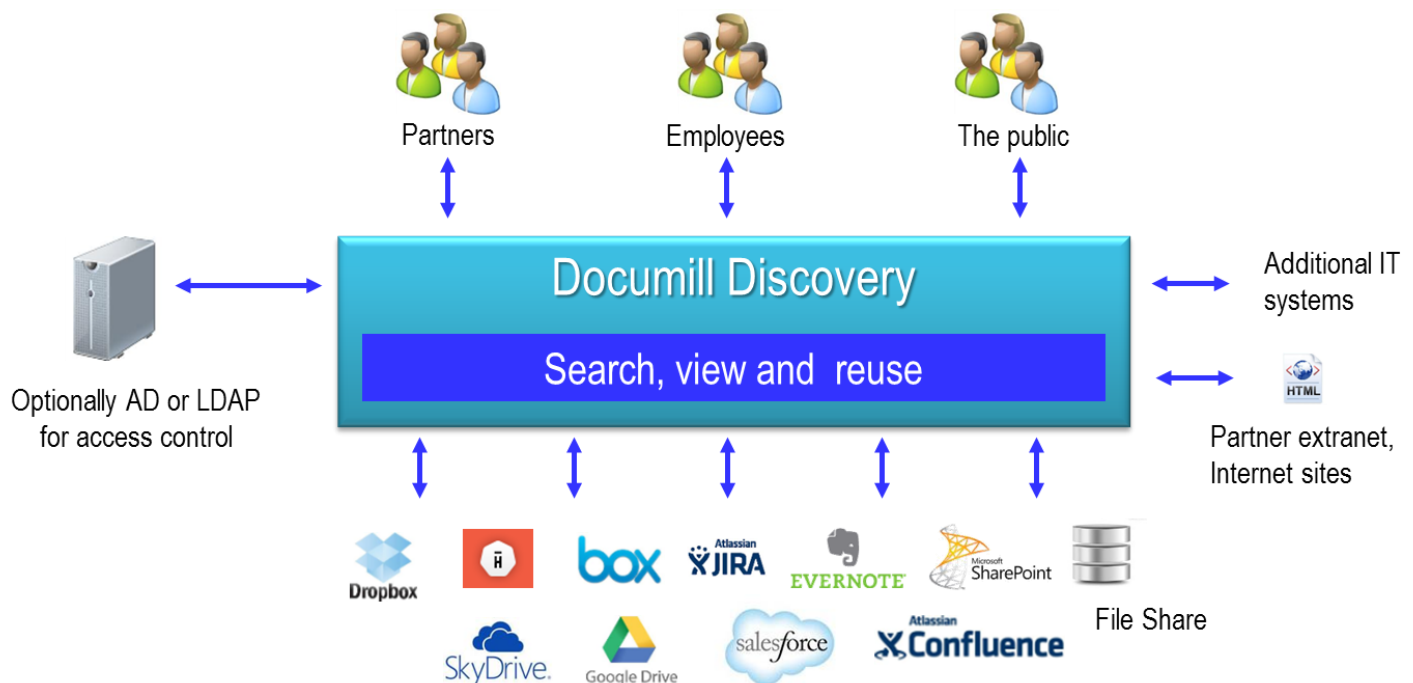

Documill Discovery

Search - Find - Take Action

Discover information from the cloud and in the company

Discovery offers seamless integration to most relevant cloud services and company data systems, out of the box. Its powerful connector framework makes it easy to bring additional data systems into search scope. All contextually relevant content from connected systems can be presented in Salesforce views like Account, Opportunity or Case with simple configuration.

Security is fundamentally important in all corporate systems, which is why Discovery automatically adapts to existing access control policies. All access rights are based on the current data in your company's access control system, such as Active Directory or LDAP.

Fast deployment with a packaged solution

Discovery is a flexible solution that is delivered as a service by Documill or its partners. If necessary, the service can also be operated from the customer's own data center. Our packaged delivery model simplifies the setup project and ensures a fast delivery.