

Calendar Anything

The #1 Salesforce Calendar Application

More than just a calendar, CalendarAnything allows for the advanced visualization of any standard, custom, or external object in Salesforce.

CalendarAnything's intuitive approach improves overall Salesforce adoption by eliminating the need for external calendars. Built using the latest Salesforce technology, the CalendarAnything Lightning Web Component allows you to schedule marketing campaigns, plan projects, forecast opportunities, and more! Regardless if your team works from home, in office, or on-the-go, CalendarAnything features streamline your business processes and productivity.

Views: Day Grouping, Day, Gantt, Swimlane, Month, Week, Agenda

Differentiate pertinent data at-a-glance

- Multilevel Conditional Coloring

Visualize up to three different fields each with their own conditional color formatting for the ability to visualize and make decisions at a glance.

- Filtering

Quickly whittle data to only see the record(s) needed.

- Grouping and Subgrouping

Use Day Grouping, Swimlane, and Gantt views to see.

Dynamic integrations

- Google Calendar

Visualize, create and edit events from Google calendar inside of CalendarAnything UI.

- Zoom, Slack, and Microsoft Team

Collaborate easily with integration and the ability to share calendars or records via .ics file, print to PDF, or export to Excel.

Manipulate data right from CalendarAnything UI

- Create new appointments for patients on the phone.
- Edit a pre-sales call when your prospect states they need to reschedule.
- Drag and Drop a service appointment on to another resource calendar to reassign to a new resource.

User view customization

CalendarAnything UI gives personalization to the end users. Control font size, default view, working hours, and more.

The power to collaborate

Embed a dynamic calendar on a Salesforce record page that only shows the entries related to that record for your internal team or embed CalendarAnything within your community or website to show upcoming company events, volunteer opportunities, webinars, and more.
