OBJECTIVES

The Fox Rent-A-Car customer success team struggled to keep pace with their growing business. Systemic to their painpoints were disparate tools and processes that made it impossible to provide a consistent and informed customer experience.

SOLUTIONS

Fox Rent-A-Car sought to raise the bar in their customer experience by providing support agents and managers with a more contextual view of their customers. To accomplish this, they partnered with Thunder to help them reimagine their tech stack on Salesforce Service Cloud and optimize their business processes to make the most out of their investment.

Led by their visionary CTO, Guarav Kohil, Fox Rent-A-Car and Thunder embarked to redefine the customer experience and become a leader, once again, in the space.

TESTIMONIAL

What I value most about working with Thunder is their collaboration style: with Thunder, we are one team. The Thunder team took the time to understand the nuances of Fox's complex business and were dynamic and forthcoming with their consulting and partnership. Above all, Thunder has been committed to our success from day 1.
