Project-Based Model

Client outsources specific projects to CloudLabs, who delivers the project within agreed timelines and budget

Managed Services Model

Client outsources day-to-day management and maintenance of applications to CloudLabs, who ensures smooth operation

Co-Sourcing Model

Client and CloudLabs collaborate to deliver application management services, sharing responsibilities and expertise

Subscription-Based Model

Fixed-price project-based engagement
Defined project scope and timeline
Dedicated project manager

Build-Operate-Transfer (BOT) Model

CloudLabs builds and operates the application management service, then transfers ownership and operations to the client after an agreed period

Staff Augmentation Model

Client hires CloudLabs' resources to augment their in-house team, typically for specific skills or short-term needs

These engagement models can be tailored or combined to suit specific client needs and preferences
